Dallas Airmotive do Brasil Wins Brazilian Air Force Contracts

São Paulo, Brasil...August 10, 2011...BBA Aviation Engine Repair and Overhaul (ERO) company Dallas Airmotive do Brasil has won four long-term contracts with the Brazilian Air Force (BAF) over the past two years.

The most recent win in June of this year will process TFE731 Life Limited Parts (LLPs) to Dallas Airmotive's facility in Belo Horizonte. The LLPs include fan assemblies, HPT wheel assemblies, LPT wheel assemblies, fuel manifold sets for repair, overhaul or exchange. Also covered are oil analysis kits, balancing and other repair services. The contract has a one year initial period with renewals for two additional years.

Additional BAF work won by Dallas Airmotive do Brasil includes a contract for Pratt & Whitney Canada Corp. (P&WC) PW118 engine repairs, Hot Section Inspections and overhauls for the BAF fleet; a contract for P&WC PT6A engine Hot Section Inspections on more than 30 engines; and a contract for PT6A engine replacement parts sales.

"Our relationship with the Brazilian Air Force continues to grow as we demonstrate our quality, expertise and commitment to the long-term success of our operations in Brasil," commented Hugh McElroy, President of BBA Aviation Engine Repair and Overhaul Group. "It is an extreme honor to serve the Brazilian Air Force and the critical missions they serve in national defense."
